Appreciating Our Student Leaders: Empowering Student Voice & Building Campus Culture

Dear Parents,

We are immensely proud to share a truly remarkable milestone in our journey toward fostering student leadership, peer mentorship, and a positive school culture.

Recently, our Student Council Members, Anti-Bullying Squad, and Discipline Ambassadors took the helm of campus discipline by leading interactive peer-education sessions for their junior schoolmates across all classes.

Student-Led Peer Education: Highlights

What made this initiative extraordinary was that it was entirely conceptualized, drafted, and presented by the student leaders themselves, under the guidance and final approval of our leadership team. Using thoughtfully crafted PowerPoint presentations, our leaders conducted sessions covering core behavioral domains:

- Respect & Inclusivity: Respecting peers, teachers, and school staff.
- Campus Etiquette: Standards for the classroom, assembly hall, corridors, staircases, library, washrooms, and playground.
- Breaktime Integrity: Positive habits during snack, lunch, and recreational periods.
- Safety & Responsibility: School bus decorum and responsible digital media etiquette.
- Communication: Embracing English as our campus language for global readiness.
- Student Pledge: A collective commitment taken by all students for their personal growth and the school's upliftment.

Seeing our senior students stand before their juniors with confidence, empathy, and clarity was a testament to the future leaders we are nurturing here on campus.

Reflecting on How We Guide Our Children

As parents and educators, this student initiative serves as a beautiful reminder of our shared responsibility.

Every student is still a child. They are in a vital stage of growth—they will experiment, they will make mistakes, and at times, they will fail. Even our student leaders, who took on this immense responsibility, are learning through trial and error. Our duty as adults is to accept them as children and correct them tirelessly with warmth, patience, and understanding.

The Google Maps Analogy:

Consider how a navigation app like Google Map operates. When we take a wrong turn, it never gets angry, frustrated, or gives up on us. Instead, it calmly recalculates and presents a new route to guide us forward.

As parents and teachers, we must be the "Google Maps" in our children's lives. When they take a wrong turn in behavior or academics, we must refrain from anger, disappointment, or harsh judgment. Instead, we continuously find new ways to guide them back onto the right path with love and kindness.

Celebrating the Positives

We invite you to view the attached glimpses of these peer-led sessions.

Let us intentionally focus on our children's positive actions and celebrate their efforts. When children feel trusted, valued, and encouraged, positive behaviors become second nature, and minor mistakes naturally fade away over time. These young minds are the future leaders of our world—let us continue to join hands, trust their potential, and support their journey every single day.

Thank you for your unwavering support and partnership.

With Respect,

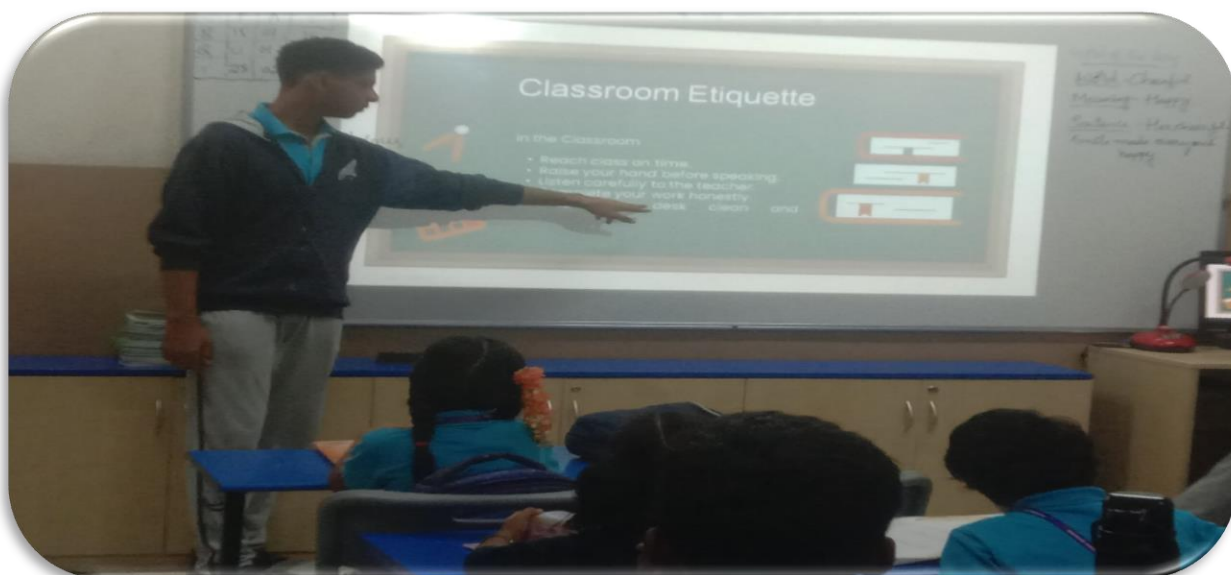

Principal
