FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

At the outset, I express my gratitude to the parents who have put their faith in us to educate their children. This brings with it tremendous responsibilities, and I assure you that we are doing our best to live up to your trust in us. Today, the role of a school is not only to pursue academic excellence but also to motivate and empower students to be lifelong learners, critical thinkers, and productive members of an ever-changing global society. Converting every individual into a self-reliant and independent citizen, our school provides an amalgam of scholastic and co-scholastic activities. This school magazine gives students opportunities to showcase their creativity in the form of stories, articles, poems, anecdotes, and so on. The theme for the second Volume of this academic year is 'The Globetrotters,' which gives the students a chance to explore the concept of travel in a fun and creative manner.

My Dream Destination

Describe the place you would love to visit if you got a fully-paid holiday.

My Dream Destination is Ram Mandir in Ayodhya. In Ram Mandir there is a profound sense of devotion and a deep feeling of serenity that encompasses the temple creating an atmosphere of peace and tranquility. As I envision myself walking through the temple's majestic gates, I am filled with an overwhelming sense of devotion, tranquility, and connection to the divine. The grandeur of the temple's architecture with its intricate carvings and ornate details, leaves me awestruck and humble.

My Dream Destination is to go on the top of a mountain. I imagine staying in a small cozy cabin surrounded by tall trees and fresh air and sunlight streaming through the window. During the day, I would explore nature trails and go hiking with my family. We would walk through lush green forest and cross wooden bridges over clear streams.

I would love to splash around in the cool water of a mountain stream. A trip to the mountains would make me feel close to nature and bring me peace and joy. I think my dream destination would create wonderful memories that I will cherish forever.

I want to visit 'Shri Vrindavan Dham'. It is located in North Mathura, Uttar Pradesh. My reason to go there has a big significance. As I am a devotee of lord 'Shree Krishna' and want to learn about the life lessons in 'Shrimad Bhagavad Gita'. The place has all the important history of Hindu god 'Lord Shree Krishna' and goddess 'Srimati Radha Rani'. I would go there and spend my time soaking in positive and good vibes of Vrindavan, and knowing more about Shree Krishna. I would be thankful and grateful to God if I visit Vrindavan, as soon as possible.

I have always dreamt of exploring the Amazon rainforest. Imagine trekking through the dense, humid air, surrounded by the cacophony of exotic birds and unseen creatures. I would navigate the winding rivers by canoe, encountering vibrant Flora and Fauna, from playful monkeys swinging through the canopy to elusive jaguars prowling the forest floor. The experience would be challenging, requiring resilience and a deep witness such raw, untamed beauty would be truly unforgettable.

Share your gastronomical and unique food experiences and pictures from the places you have visited.

Last Diwali vacation we went to Kerala with my mother's friends. We stayed in Kerala for 5 days, so we enjoyed variety of food in Kerala. We ate South-Indian dishes like Appam, Medu-Vada, Idli, Sambhar, Dosa and we also had fried fishes near the sea shore.

Pushkar is a holy city in Rajasthan, India. It is a popular destination for Hindu pilgrims. It is known for its many temples, ghats and the famous Pushkar Camel Fair. Pushkar is believed to be the place where Lord Brahma performed penance for a very long time. We ate delicious food including dal-bati as a special dish and tried Marwadi thali for our dinner. We experienced lots of things like history of our Gods, Rajasthani food, cultural heritage and tradition also.

Boba tea, also known as "bubble tea" is a popular Taiwanese drink made with a tea base, milk (or fruit syrup), and chewy tapioca balls called "boba" or "pearls", which are typically added at the bottom of the cup and sucked up through a large straw while drinking. My Travel Poem

Kerala: A Timeless Gem

Between the hills and ocean's shore,
Lies kerala, a place I adore.
With endless greens and waters wide,
A paradise where dreams reside.
The back waters flow, calm and deep,
Where houseboats drift and people sleep.
Coconut trees line every street,
as waves and sands embrace my feet.
Munnar's hills, so fresh and high,
Touch the clouds that paint the sky.
Tea leaves dance in misty air,
Spreading fragrance everywhere.
Elephants march in royal grace,
Drums and chants fill every space.
Kathakali's colors shine so bright,
Telling stories through the night.
Each movement speaks,
Each rhythm flows,
A story only kerala knows.

Migration

One a day
We went on a trip
In our car,
Which is too far.
The name of place is statue of unity,
On river Narmada famous for its purity.
We saw there a light show and zoo,
There are so many animals and lions too.
We enjoyed the trip too much,
There is no such place like that.

Ladakh: A Journey to Remember
Through winding roads and mountains high,
I travelled where the eagles fly.
Ladakh so grand, so wild, so free,
A land of dreams and mystery .
The crystal lakes, so blue and bright,
Reflected stars in golden light.
Monasteries stood tall and proud,
With prayers whispered soft, not loud.
The chilly winds, the peaceful skies,
The snowy peaks, where heaven lies.
The yaks and prayer flags so bold,
Tales of ladakh, forever told.
A journey filled with sights so rare,
A land of beauty beyond compare.
Oh, ladakh, you stole my heart,
A piece of me will never part!

Konkan Coast

We packed up the car
Packed my bags for Konkan coast,
Hoping for beaches, seafood and toast.
The drive was long, but oh, what a ride!
Bumps in the road, my back cried!
We hit the beach, ready to dive,
But my flip-flops went rogue and
I took a nosedive!
The seafood was fresh,
they said with pride
But the crab on our plate gave us the Side eye, no question.
But despite the struggles, I had a blast,
Konkan's beauty is sure to outlast.
Still, Konkan's magic had me in awe,
Even if i didn't know which way
Was up or down, But despite the chaos, the fun never Stopped! From sunset selfies to coconut pops.
In Konkan with family and friends,
We did thrive And though we were messy,
We felt so alive!

Describe an adventure activity you wish to experience or share an experience you have had of an adventure sport...

I would love to experience hiking through the lush, misty forests of New Zealand, particularly around the Tongariro Alpine crossing. The combination of volcanic landscapes, dramatic craters, emerald lakes, and towering mountains seem like the perfect adventure. I imagine the rush of fresh air surrounded by vibrant nature and awe-inspiring views. The trail's varying landscapes would make the journey feel like stepping into another world. Unfortunately, I haven't had the chance to experience it yet but I dream of it every time I see pictures of the place.

I have always dreamt of experiencing scuba diving, an adventure sport that allows you to explore the mesmerising underwater world. The idea of diving deep into the ocean, surrounded by colourful coral reefs, exotic marine life, and the peaceful silence of the deep sea, excites me. My Travel Story

I am sharing my journey experience to Nasik with my mom, dad and family friend. Firstly, we reached at Nashik Zonkar Adventure Park, where I personally drove Gocart car and it was my life's best experience. Thereafter we went to city center mall, where I enjoyed arcade games and earned tickets and were rewarded with gifts. After the shopping, we had tasty food at the food court. Thereafter, we went to Peruchi Wadi, where we saw the the bird cage. I fed the birds and they sat on my hand, head, shoulders and on my palm. It was a thrilling experience of my life. I enjoyed Gocarting, shopping, digital games and nature very closely.

I went to Goa with my family. I went to Goa in an aeroplane. We stayed at the Cape Goa resort. My mother and and my mother played in the sand and water at the beach. My father took our photos. We had our morning breakfast near the beach.

I saw the sun set near the sea. I found a sea shell at the beach.

Our summer vacation plan was the most memorable one. We planned a short trip to Goa. Though the climate was hot in Goa, the trip was really a mind refresher. We were able to relax on the beach in the evening. The waves moving up and down gave us a chance to talk with our family without any hindrance. After a long time we saw many fishermen moving into the sea and catching fishes. We also got many valuable things as a remembrance of Goa.

Goa is definitely one of the best places I have visited.

I went on a trip to Agra, Lal Kila, Mathura, Vrindavan with my family. My final destination was Mathura, the birthplace of Lord Krishna. I visited the Shri Krishna Janmabhoomi Temple, which marks the spot where Lord Krishna was born. My first stop was Agra, home to the majestic Taj Mahal. As I stood before the wonder of the world, I was struck by its breathtaking beauty. Next, I visited the Agra Fort. Then I travelled to Vrindavan, a city steeped in mythology and spirituality. If you are planning a trip to these cities, I would recommend immersing yourself in their culture, history and spirituality.

...was my worst travel experience

My worst travel experience happened on our trip to Kashmir. The trip was from 30th Dec to 4th Jan. I with my family, went to Gujarat to visit some Temples, Natural places and some main spots there. It was a 8-10 days trip. First three days we enjoyed a lot. On the fourth day, we went to Poicha Garden. We enjoyed there and played, also gained some knowledge regarding that garden. After coming back, we got to know that our key was lost. We tried to find it, but we couldn't get it. I was sitting next to our car on a big stone and there was another stone in front of it. I was very small at that time and I tried to jump from that stone and I fell down suddenly. I hurt myself badly on the head. Due to this me and my family returned back to our home and we could not see many places there. It was my worst travel experience till date.

My worst travel experience on a train started when i boarded a packed overnight train with no air condition. The ride was unbearably hot, and the air smelled of sweat and stale food. Midway through, the train broke down, leaving us stranded for hours in middle of nowhere. The crew was not helpful and no one gave us clear information.

My seatmate got stuck making the cabin even more uncomfortable. My luggage fell down from overhead the rack. The train was delayed for so long that I missed my connecting ride. We finally reached the destination. The station was closed. After another hour it reopened. The ride was so exhausting and frustrating. It was a trip I would never want to repeat.

One of my worst travel experience occurred during a trip to a village in the mountains. I had been planning the trip for months, hoping to experience the tranquil beauty of nature, away from the bustle of the city life. However, what should have been a peaceful escape quickly turned into a series of unfortunate events. First, my flight was delayed due to a storm causing me to miss my connecting flight. After being rerouted, I finally landed in a city nearby, but the weather had already caused significant disruption to the local transport network. The buses to the village were running late or were cancelled altogether, and I was stranded at a small poorly lit station with no clear options for how to reach my destination. I was so frustrated and tired, but finally, a local taxi offered to take me to the village for an exorbitant fare. I agreed. The journey through winding, narrow mountain roads was terrifying. At one time, the car broke down in the middle of nowhere and we had to wait for an eternity after replacement of the vehicle. We finally reached the destination.
